INTRODUCTION TO THE SURVEY

Canadians are living longer and healthier lives than previous generations. Many older adults prefer to stay in their homes and communities for as long as possible.

The Minister of Seniors and Minister of Health have asked the National Seniors Council to identify ways the government can further support Canadians who wish to age in their homes and communities. The National Senior Council will use information collected as part of this survey to prepare advice to the federal government on this matter.

Key definitions – specific to this survey:

- Aging in place or at home is defined as “the ability to live in one’s home and community safely, independently, and comfortably, regardless of age, income or level of capacity” (World Health Organization). It is about living in a place that is adapted to you, while having the right health and social supports and opportunities to remain actively engaged with others and your community.
- A “home”, for the purpose of this survey, refers to a place where an older adult can live independently as long as possible. It is a setting in the community in which someone resides, including: a private home (owned, rented, or leased); a residence shared with others (co-owned, rented, leased or not); including multi-generational homes, seniors’ residences and retirement homes. The National Seniors Council recognizes that other places (such as nursing homes, long-term care settings, and acute care hospitals) may be considered home to some;

these settings are not included in the concept of “home” for the purpose of this survey.

- Although there is no universal definition of “seniors / older adults”, and while life circumstances and the situation of older persons can influence the aging process, the age of 65 is widely considered as the age of retirement by provisions in the retirement income system and by society at large.
- “Services and supports” to age at home refer to all types of care, resources, help, and opportunities available to individuals wishing to live at home or in their community for as long as possible. These may include medical, mental health-related, personal care, domestic, social, spiritual, or financial services and supports.

This survey is organized in three sections:

- Access: being aware of services and supports to age at home and how to find and use them.
- Availability: getting the services and supports to age at home regardless of your needs, geographic location, culture, language, etc.
- Affordability: having the ability to pay for services and supports to age at home.

The approximate time to complete the survey is 15 to 20 minutes.

We appreciate you taking the time to share your views.
